

The Times

SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 2, 1895.

PER WEEK, 30c
PER MONTH, $3c
FIVE CENTS

MUSEMENTS

New Los Angeles Theater.
TONIGHT ONLY—Saturday, Nov. 2nd.
MR. O. W. KYLE takes pleasure in announcing the production of the beautiful comic opera
"Erminie."

Under the musical direction of MR. C. MODINI-WOOD. New and elegant costumes. A popular cast, assisted by a chorus of 30. Scenery painted especially for the production. Seats now on sale. Prices 50c, 75c, 1.00.

New Los Angeles Theater—
C. M. WOOD, Lessee. H. C. WYATT, Manager.
Five Nights, Saturday Matinee, commencing Tuesday, November 3.
It's a good thing! Push it along. CANARY & LEDEBER'S New York Casino production intact. "THE PASSING SHOW."
With its 110 people, including John E. Henshaw, Vernon Jarboe, George A. Schiller, Lucy Day, John D. Gilbert, Usher, Seymour Hess, Madge Leasing, Gus Plisky, May Ten Brock, E. S. Tarr, the Boston Quartette.
Canary & Ledebere's original New York Casino Pickaninies and the beautiful "L'Enfant Prodiges" Ballet. PRICES—50c, 75c, 1.00 and 1.50. Seats now on sale.

OPHEUM—
WEEK COMMENCING MONDAY, OCT. 28.
A WORLD OF STARTLING NOVELTIES.

Flakowski, Memphis Kennedy, Foley and O'Dell, Granger and Harding, Haines and Pettigill, Murphy and Mack, Zanzig. MATINEES SATURDAY AND SUNDAY.
Performance every evening, including Sundays. Evening prices 10c, 25c, 50c. Tel. 1467. HUNGARIAN CONCERT 8 P. M. Curtain 8:15 sharp.

BURBANK THEATER.
Fourth week of THE FRAVLEY COMPANY, (from The Columbia Theater, S.F.) commencing Monday Evening, Oct. 28, with regular Saturday Matinee, presenting William Haworth's glorious Naval Drama, "THE ENSIGN."
A wealth of scenery, costumes and effects. Continued success of the charming song-stories, LADY SHOLTO DOUGLASS, who will appear in a new and original song-stories and dances. Positively no advance in prices. The popular Burbank rates prevail. Week commencing Nov. 4, Augustin Daly's World Renowned Comedy, "NANCY & CO."

AGRICULTURAL PARK.

Silkwood Today Silkwood Day
GREATEST PACING RACE ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

FIVE FASTER PACERS THAN EVER TOOK THE WORD IN ONE RACE.

SILKWOOD, 2:07, the Santa Ana wonder; W. WOOD, 2:07, faster than his record and as game as his fast; WALDO J., 2:08, a coming champion; SEYMOUR WILKES, 2:08½, greatest son of the great Guy Wilkes; PATHMONT, 2:09½, hot company in any field of horses. This is a greater field of horses than has appeared on any circuit this year.

The 2:40 trot for $1000 has twenty entries, all good, fast, game horses. The 2:30 trot for $1000 has thirteen entries; Irene Crocker, Jasper Ayres, Rex Gifford, Steve, Myrtle, Chico, McZeus; all better than 2:14.
Polo pony race, gentlemen riders, half-mile dash, six entries: Jack Pot, Santa Monica, Retta Wakers, Lady Gray, Wonder, Rita.

This will be the red letter day's sport of 1895.

RAYMOND PARK.

(Raymond Hotel Site.)

GRAND CONCERT.
DOUGLAS MILITARY BAND. SUNDAY, Nov. 3, 2 p.m.
Refreshments Admission 10c. PASADENA ELECTRIC CARS stop at the gate.

THLETIC PARK.

PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL.

LOS ANGELES vs. OAKLAND, October 31, November 1, 2, 3 and 4. Games called at 3 p.m. daily. Admission 50c.

CHRYSANTHEMUM FLOWER SHOW.

CUT FLOWERS AND PLANTS for sale at low prices. JAPANESE NURSERY, corner Main and Jefferson Streets. No admission.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE BRADBURY.

216-218 West Third Street

IS WHERE OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS WILL FIND THE

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA MUSIC CO.

Dealers in High Grade Pianos.

WHITE PLUME CULINARY.

MOUNTAIN BLACKBERRIES, SAN DIEGO GUAYAS, MOUNTAIN STRAWBERRIES, SUGAR PEAS.

We carry the largest and best assortment of fruit and vegetables in the city.

ALTHOUSE BROS., 105 West First Street.

PARLOR NOVELTIES.

NEW FURNITURE JUST IN

From the manufacturers direct. Some of the prettiest chairs you ever saw, and the lowest prices for nice goods that can be found in the State.

We cater to the people of moderate means, those who would have their houses look bright and comfortable, but who yet would not want to squander money for mere show.

FULLER & LEWIS, Wholesale and Retail, 251 S. MAIN ST., Tel. 57.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE

New Scale Kimball Piano?

IF NOT, WHY NOT?

TERMS EASY. NOW ON SALE AT

BARTLETT'S MUSIC HOUSE, 113 N. Spring St.

COLUMBIA BICYCLE RIDING ACADEMY—

NOW OPEN.

COMPETENT MANAGEMENT. NO SPECTATORS.

ILLINOIS HALL, 607½ S. Broadway.

STEPHENS & HICKOK, Proprietors.

HAVE YOU HEARD IT—

"Our Italy" March

BLANCHARD-FITZGERALD MUSIC CO., 113 S. Spring St.

Send 50c, post paid, at once.

MEN'S SHOES EXCLUSIVELY.

BARDEN'S, 130 North Spring Street. FREE SHINES.

INCLOSURE CARNATIONS.

ASK YOUR FLOREST FOR THEM IN SIZE

they are the largest in color the brightest, in perfume the sweetest. Grown by F. EDWARD GRAY, Alhambra, Cal.

THE MORNING'S NEWS

The Times

Associated Press Reports Briefed.

THE CITY—Pages 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

Great Dane dog-shooting case on trial. Coe brothers discharged on writ of habeas corpus. Grand jury land victims arraigned. Wilshire land offer laid over by Board of Public Works. Mrs. Ballington Booth's debut in Los Angeles. Young lady horribly burned by gasoline. Gov. Budd's departure. Forger Echardt in jail. A cook's mysterious disappearance. Riverside Polo Club wins the championship cup. Horse breeders' races. Great free-for-all pace to good. Oakland and Los Angeles play good ball. Cycling news. "Erminie" played by local talent. Santa Fe flyer's quick trip.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA—Pages 12, 13.

Rev. H. Elliott Ward of Pasadena, preacher, arrested for criminal libel. Prosed inter-high-school field day to be held in San Bernardino county. A drugstore transfer that fell through at Redlands. Miss Wade's approaching nuptials at San Diego. A Halloween joke shot at Garderey. Small blaze in Santa Ana. The father of Riverside banqueting. Halloween pranks at Santa Monica.

PACIFIC COAST—Pages 2, 3.

Durrant found guilty of the murder of Blanche Lamont. Exciting scenes around the courtroom. C. P. Huntington on a colonization scheme for California. Steamer Progress rides through a tidal wave. Lively times expected at the Fruit-growers' Convention next week. Death of Jack Dempsey, the famous pugilist. Ex-City Treasurer McCauley of Tacoma arrested for looting the city's money. California gets the gold medal for the best State exhibit at the Atlanta Exposition.

GENERAL EASTERN—Pages 1, 2, 3.

Holmes' counsel offer to submit the case without argument, but the court orders the attorneys to proceed. The War Department probing into the court-martial of Lieut. Pague. A newly-married couple in Kentucky killed by snakes. The Nicaragua Canal Commission's report said to be favorable. George C. Cannon accuses Democratic Chairman Powers of stealing Salt Lake City. The Chicago telephone exchange set a-ringing by the quake. Doings in relation to Cuba. Why the Canadians think they have a right to the Alaskan goldfields. Students break up a play at the Chicago Operahouse. The mystery of a train-robbery cleared up. Otto Ziegler breaks a record at Fountain Ziegler.

BY CABLE—Pages 1, 2.

Severe earthquake shock startles Rome. Attempt to burn the American College at Marsovan, Asia Minor. Changes in the personnel of the new French Cabinet. Fresh disturbances in Erzerum and other cities. Fifty persons killed—The Grand Vizier refused permission to retire. The London Post congratulates G. Cleveland for not being a "jingo."

AT LARGE—Pages 1, 2, 3.

Dispatches were also received from St. Paul, New York, Austin, Tex.; Chicago, Bloomington, Ill.; Washington, City of Mexico, San Francisco, Sacramento, Lincoln, Neb.; Louisville, Columbia, S. C., and other places.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL—Page 12.

Money plentiful at Los Angeles banks with good demand. New timeworks established. First meeting of the Southern California Fruit Exchange Company. Raisin shipments. Bradstreet and Dun trade reviews. The stock and bond lists of New York, Chicago, Boston and San Francisco. Grain and produce.

WEATHER FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 1.—For Southern California: Fair, with increasing cloudiness Saturday night; stationary temperature; northerly winds.

STOLE SALT LAKE CITY.

AND GOT TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR DOING IT.

Sensational Charge Against Democratic Chairman Powers Having Made.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SALT LAKE, (Utah), Nov. 1.—In the excitement of this campaign nearly every day develops some feature which is eagerly taken up in order to make capital for one or the other political parties. The Herald yesterday published a report coming from Brigham City to the effect that Hon. George C. Cannon had, in a public speech, intentionally attacked Chairman Powers of the Democratic Committee and charged that he had received $10,000 for stealing Salt Lake City while chairman of the Liberal Committee in 1890.

Judge Powers strongly resented the charge in two speeches delivered last night. In a published interview in the Tribune, Cannon denies that he made the attack or had Powers in mind when delivering his address. Speaking on this subject to a representative of the Associated Press, Cannon stated that on the statement of others who were present it now appears that he may have made the remarks attributed to him, but that if so, he was entirely unconscious of doing so and has no knowledge of having said anything of the kind.

HE IS GUILTY.

Theodore Durrant Has Been Convicted.

Only Twenty-one Minutes Lost Waiting a Verdict.

No Recommendation to Mercy Made by the Jury.

HIS PUNISHMENT IS DEATH.

The Announcement Received with Wild Cheers.

Blanche Lamont's Relatives at Once Congratulated.

The Prisoner Quickly Recovers His Nonchalance.

MRS. DURRANT IS OVERCOME.

Last Scene of the Great Trial—Sentence to be Passed on Friday—The Minnie Williams Case Also to be Tried—Data not Fixed.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Theodore Durrant, assistant superintendent of the Emanuel Baptist Church Sunday-school, was today convicted of the murder of Blanche Lamont, for which he has been on trial since July 22 last. The jury arrived at the verdict on the first ballot. As there was no recommendation of mercy the punishment was fixed at death.

It was exactly twenty-one minutes from the time that the jury left the courtroom to the time that the verdict was announced, but that time was not all taken up in deliberation. In fact there was no deliberation at all. The jury had evidently decided upon a verdict before they left the box. It was 3:24 o'clock when they filed out of the courtroom into the grand-jury room, which had been placed at their disposal. It took the twelve men until 3:50 o'clock before they settled themselves comfortably, and at 3:55 o'clock a knock on the door announced to the anxious waiters that a verdict had been found. It took just five minutes of actual time to elect a foreman and take the one ballot necessary.

The scene in the courtroom when the verdict was announced will never be forgotten by those who were present. Judge Murphy finished his charge at 3:30 o'clock and the jury soon retired. Although there was supposed to be little prospect of a verdict being returned before 7 or 8 o'clock in the evening, the throng of spectators who had remained in the overcrowded courtroom all the afternoon to hear the Judge's charge settled themselves back in their seats to await the return of the jury.

Mrs. Durrant and the prisoner talked and laughed together as if an acquittal were a foregone conclusion. They were joined by half a dozen friends and the conversation was becoming animated when it became known that a verdict had been reached. In an instant a hush fell upon the little circle that had gathered around the prisoner. Durrant's face, always pale, assumed a ghastly hue, and his mother was speechless. Then the big doors at the rear of the room opened and the members of the jury filed in and took their seats in the box.

In the intense excitement that followed, the room, although it was filled to its utmost capacity, was almost as quiet as if it had been vacant. Judge Murphy, who had retired to his chambers, was summoned and took his place upon the bench. Clerk Morris asked the usual question as to whether the jury had agreed upon a verdict. Foreman Warren Dutton arose and replied in the affirmative.

"We, the jury," said he, "find the defendant, William Henry Theodore Durrant, guilty of murder in the first degree."

As the aged foreman, pale and trembling, read the words that fixed Durrant's fate, a low rumbling noise like the roar of a mob arose from the rear of the courtroom. The next moment men were cheering wildly, while women wept hysterically in excitement. The hall filled with a roar of order, but the tumult continued for a minute before anything like quiet could be brought out of the disorder. Then Dist. Atty. Barnes arose and asked that a day be set upon which the sentence of death should be passed upon the prisoner. Judge Murphy said that sentence would be passed next Friday, upon which day he would also set the day for the trial of Durrant on the charge of murdering Minnie Williams.

During the tumult that followed the announcement of the verdict, Durrant and his mother were lost sight of, except by the few who sat nearest to them. As the last words of the verdict were uttered, Durrant made a spasmodic effort to rise to his feet, but before he could do so his mother, with a half sigh, half moan, threw her arms around his neck and sunk back into her chair. His mother's grief seemed to make Durrant forget his own position, and for the next few minutes he sat with his arms around her neck, trying

CUT IT SHORT.

Holmes Will Introduce No Witnesses.

His Counsel Willing to Close Without Argument.

The Court, However, Insists on Some Talk from the Attorneys.

Mr. Moon Is Expected to Assist Them in Throwing Some Light Upon the Case and What Probably "Set" Before Night.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—Tomorrow night the world will probably know whether or not Holmes will hang. Incidentally, Holmes, who is not now a part of the world, but a mere shrunken figure with a number, a cage and all men's enemies' eyes upon him, know. Apart from this, a small army of exhausted men, lawyers, court officials and newspaper reporters will offer up thanks for the termination of, in many respects, the most extraordinary case since the trial of the hanged-up her eyes and started in business.

When the trial began last Monday everybody anticipated a siege of at least two weeks, but yesterday the case took a sudden turn, and today an order, which will help to push it to a swift conclusion. The decision of Judge Arnold that no testimony would be admitted other than that bearing directly on the murder of Benjamin F. Pitzel, had the effect of keeping out a group of gruesome exhibits brought here from Canada, New England, and the West, and expunged for six days at the commonwealth's expense.

It prevented the offering in evidence of the moldering bones of the boy, Howard Pitzel, the child in which he had a body to put inside of them; the toys he played with; and the trunk which contained his clothing, and the girl, Alice and Nellie. Besides it put a quietus on Detective Geyer, whose detailed narrative of his travels over the continent in a successful search for evidence of Holmes' destructive movements would have made a thrilling tale. Dist. Atty. Graham fought as hard as he knew how to get this evidence in, but the law was against him, and the defense scored its first victory.

When he found himself bested, he said he would close his case this morning, and he kept his word. He did not exhibit the skill of Pitzel, thereby disappointing a lot of people who love to revel in the horrible.

"That is our case," had scarcely fallen from the lips of the commonwealth's prosecutor, before the counsel for the defense had calmly arisen and made what many persons characterized as "a bold bluff," and many more as playing the last card left.

He told the court that the commonwealth had not made out its case, and asked wind up the trial then and there.

Dist. Atty. Graham smiled an official smile, and said this was too absurd to answer, but Judge Arnold expressed no opinion other than that the case would have to proceed. Then the defense made the astonishing statement that they wanted time to find out what the defense was going to find because they had been so busy listening to the evidence against them that they had not had a chance to prepare an answer for it. The court was not anxious to create another delay, but finally suspended business and gave the attorneys an hour's talk with Holmes.

This over, they came back to the court and pleaded over one another's heads in the back part of the room, by declaring that they would call no witnesses and would submit the case on argument alone. This will be tomorrow morning, add, the lawyers said, would end before the day is over.

There is an impression that a lawyer R. O. Moon will do the talking for the defense, and his forensic ability is of the highest order. It was he whom Holmes called upon last Monday when he dismissed his lawyers, Moon declining the case through lack of time for preparation. He admitted being familiar with the main facts, and will be able to address the jury.

There was no change in Holmes' demeanor, although a keen observer might have perceived a deeper pallor on his cheeks, and in his blue eyes the subdued glare of a wild beast tracked to earth at last. But it needed a keen eye to detect it, if it was there.

Today's session was begun by the recalling of Mrs. Pitzel, Attorney Graham asked her if there were any cuffs to the shirt she identified yesterday as her husband's, and she replied that Holmes had taken them from the trunk and destroyed them. On cross-examination Shoemaker rigidly questioned the unfortunate woman concerning her travels with Holmes and her subsequent arrest for conspiracy. His apparent intention was to show that Mrs. Pitzel had been the controlling influence in the ramblings throughout the country, but that she carried Holmes about in an attempt to evade arrest.

"You want to prove that she was not Triby, but Svegnall," suggested Judge Arnold. "That she led him to recall Mrs. Pitzel's name was drowned out by a dispute over the relevancy of the cross-examination, which was not pushed further.

The commonwealth offered in evidence the letters, papers, pictures and the Holmes book, and rested its case. The defense here asked to recall Miss Yorke for re-cross-examination on the question of her marriage with Holmes, which was not brought in her examination yesterday. She was brought into court and given a seat on the witness stand.

"Mrs. Holmes," began Rotan to the woman who calls herself Miss Yorke, "were you ever married to the prisoner?"

"I was."

"On January 17, 1884, at Denver, by Rev. Wilcox?"

"At the time of this marriage did you know of the existence of this William?"

"I believe I did."

"Was she called Mrs. Holmes?"

"I don't remember."

CUT IT SHORT.

Holmes Will Introduce No Witnesses.

His Counsel Willing to Close Without Argument.

The Court, However, Insists on Some Talk from the Attorneys.

Mr. Moon Is Expected to Assist Them in Throwing Some Light Upon the Case and What Probably "Set" Before Night.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—Tomorrow night the world will probably know whether or not Holmes will hang. Incidentally, Holmes, who is not now a part of the world, but a mere shrunken figure with a number, a cage and all men's enemies' eyes upon him, know. Apart from this, a small army of exhausted men, lawyers, court officials and newspaper reporters will offer up thanks for the termination of, in many respects, the most extraordinary case since the trial of the hanged-up her eyes and started in business.

When the trial began last Monday everybody anticipated a siege of at least two weeks, but yesterday the case took a sudden turn, and today an order, which will help to push it to a swift conclusion. The decision of Judge Arnold that no testimony would be admitted other than that bearing directly on the murder of Benjamin F. Pitzel, had the effect of keeping out a group of gruesome exhibits brought here from Canada, New England, and the West, and expunged for six days at the commonwealth's expense.

It prevented the offering in evidence of the moldering bones of the boy, Howard Pitzel, the child in which he had a body to put inside of them; the toys he played with; and the trunk which contained his clothing, and the girl, Alice and Nellie. Besides it put a quietus on Detective Geyer, whose detailed narrative of his travels over the continent in a successful search for evidence of Holmes' destructive movements would have made a thrilling tale. Dist. Atty. Graham fought as hard as he knew how to get this evidence in, but the law was against him, and the defense scored its first victory.

When he found himself bested, he said he would close his case this morning, and he kept his word. He did not exhibit the skill of Pitzel, thereby disappointing a lot of people who love to revel in the horrible.

"That is our case," had scarcely fallen from the lips of the commonwealth's prosecutor, before the counsel for the defense had calmly arisen and made what many persons characterized as "a bold bluff," and many more as playing the last card left.

He told the court that the commonwealth had not made out its case, and asked wind up the trial then and there.

Dist. Atty. Graham smiled an official smile, and said this was too absurd to answer, but Judge Arnold expressed no opinion other than that the case would have to proceed. Then the defense made the astonishing statement that they wanted time to find out what the defense was going to find because they had been so busy listening to the evidence against them that they had not had a chance to prepare an answer for it. The court was not anxious to create another delay, but finally suspended business and gave the attorneys an hour's talk with Holmes.

This over, they came back to the court and pleaded over one another's heads in the back part of the room, by declaring that they would call no witnesses and would submit the case on argument alone. This will be tomorrow morning, add, the lawyers said, would end before the day is over.

There is an impression that a lawyer R. O. Moon will do the talking for the defense, and his forensic ability is of the highest order. It was he whom Holmes called upon last Monday when he dismissed his lawyers, Moon declining the case through lack of time for preparation. He admitted being familiar with the main facts, and will be able to address the jury.

There was no change in Holmes' demeanor, although a keen observer might have perceived a deeper pallor on his cheeks, and in his blue eyes the subdued glare of a wild beast tracked to earth at last. But it needed a keen eye to detect it, if it was there.

Today's session was begun by the recalling of Mrs. Pitzel, Attorney Graham asked her if there were any cuffs to the shirt she identified yesterday as her husband's, and she replied that Holmes had taken them from the trunk and destroyed them. On cross-examination Shoemaker rigidly questioned the unfortunate woman concerning her travels with Holmes and her subsequent arrest for conspiracy. His apparent intention was to show that Mrs. Pitzel had been the controlling influence in the ramblings throughout the country, but that she carried Holmes about in an attempt to evade arrest.

"You want to prove that she was not Triby, but Svegnall," suggested Judge Arnold. "That she led him to recall Mrs. Pitzel's name was drowned out by a dispute over the relevancy of the cross-examination, which was not pushed further.

The commonwealth offered in evidence the letters, papers, pictures and the Holmes book, and rested its case. The defense here asked to recall Miss Yorke for re-cross-examination on the question of her marriage with Holmes, which was not brought in her examination yesterday. She was brought into court and given a seat on the witness stand.

"Mrs. Holmes," began Rotan to the woman who calls herself Miss Yorke, "were you ever married to the prisoner?"

"I was."

"On January 17, 1884, at Denver, by Rev. Wilcox?"

"At the time of this marriage did you know of the existence of this William?"

"I believe I did."

"Was she called Mrs. Holmes?"

"I don't remember."

CUT IT SHORT.

Holmes Will Introduce No Witnesses.

His Counsel Willing to Close Without Argument.

The Court, However, Insists on Some Talk from the Attorneys.

Mr. Moon Is Expected to Assist Them in Throwing Some Light Upon the Case and What Probably "Set" Before Night.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—Tomorrow night the world will probably know whether or not Holmes will hang. Incidentally, Holmes, who is not now a part of the world, but a mere shrunken figure with a number, a cage and all men's enemies' eyes upon him, know. Apart from this, a small army of exhausted men, lawyers, court officials and newspaper reporters will offer up thanks for the termination of, in many respects, the most extraordinary case since the trial of the hanged-up her eyes and started in business.

When the trial began last Monday everybody anticipated a siege of at least two weeks, but yesterday the case took a sudden turn, and today an order, which will help to push it to a swift conclusion. The decision of Judge Arnold that no testimony would be admitted other than that bearing directly on the murder of Benjamin F. Pitzel, had the effect of keeping out a group of gruesome exhibits brought here from Canada, New England, and the West, and expunged for six days at the commonwealth's expense.

It prevented the offering in evidence of the moldering bones of the boy, Howard Pitzel, the child in which he had a body to put inside of them; the toys he played with; and the trunk which contained his clothing, and the girl, Alice and Nellie. Besides it put a quietus on Detective Geyer, whose detailed narrative of his travels over the continent in a successful search for evidence of Holmes' destructive movements would have made a thrilling tale. Dist. Atty. Graham fought as hard as he knew how to get this evidence in, but the law was against him, and the defense scored its first victory.

When he found himself bested, he said he would close his case this morning, and he kept his word. He did not exhibit the skill of Pitzel, thereby disappointing a lot of people who love to revel in the horrible.

"That is our case," had scarcely fallen from the lips of the commonwealth's prosecutor, before the counsel for the defense had calmly arisen and made what many persons characterized as "a bold bluff," and many more as playing the last card left.

He told the court that the commonwealth had not made out its case, and asked wind up the trial then and there.

Dist. Atty. Graham smiled an official smile, and said this was too absurd to answer, but Judge Arnold expressed no opinion other than that the case would have to proceed. Then the defense made the astonishing statement that they wanted time to find out what the defense was going to find because they had been so busy listening to the evidence against them that they had not had a chance to prepare an answer for it. The court was not anxious to create another delay, but finally suspended business and gave the attorneys an hour's talk with Holmes.

This over, they came back to the court and pleaded over one another's heads in the back part of the room, by declaring that they would call no witnesses and would submit the case on argument alone. This will be tomorrow morning, add, the lawyers said, would end before the day is over.

There is an impression that a lawyer R. O. Moon will do the talking for the defense, and his forensic ability is of the highest order. It was he whom Holmes called upon last Monday when he dismissed his lawyers, Moon declining the case through lack of time for preparation. He admitted being familiar with the main facts, and will be able to address the jury.

There was no change in Holmes' demeanor, although a keen observer might have perceived a deeper pallor on his cheeks, and in

The expensive medium is usually expensive because it is a right to be advertised. (Art in Advertising.)

A hobby—Somebody says that every man has his hobby. Take care that it is a good and useful one. The thrifty man's hobby is commendable. If he is properly informed he makes his purchases of hats, underwear, shirts, neckwear, gloves, etc., at Desmond's in the Bryson Block, No. 141 South Spring street. You can't guess how much money you'd save by doing so. This is practical economy, and to practice economy is the same as increasing your income. There's only one way to get the most out of money, and that's to get the most for it. It's ten times as easy to get the most for your money as it is to get the most out of it. If you capture such values as Desmond's offering today. These are but a few examples of what you can get for $2 and $2.50; new, strictly up-to-date neckwear, 50 cents; all-wool underwear, $2 per suit, and stacks of other equally big values.

Saturday at Volmer's, No. 118 South Spring street, near First. We have just opened a large shipment of those beautiful decorated china tea plates, sauce plates, salad plates, cream bowls, and will give our customers the benefit of our direct importation. These goods must be seen to be appreciated. They are novel and new. See the prices: 1000 decorated china tea plates, cup and saucer, 9 cents each; 1000 decorated china cake plates, brownie centers, 9 cents each; 1000 decorated china salad plates, 9 cents each; 1000 decorated china ice-cream plates, 9 cents each; 1000 sets patent bread, cake and paring knives, 27 cents a set of 3 pieces; 100 new-shape decorated toilet sets, $2.75 a set.

The concert at the Boston store by the Catalina band tonight will include Bialle's "Bohemian Girl," Verdi's "Ernani," Schuman's "Trauerlied," a musical critic's dream, a novelty, arranged as by all of the old masters; German smiles, "Te Vultu a Ver," a Mexican waltz, a medley of the very latest popular airs.

Gospel service for young women at the Y.W.C.A., No. 107 North Spring street, at 2:45 o'clock Sunday. Address by the coast secretary, Miss Emma Reeder. Bible class at 3 p.m.; Spanish with Prof. Bransby Monday at 7 p.m. "Every woman her own milliner" if she joins the millinery class Monday at 7 p.m.

Chamber of Commerce excursion over the Mt. Lowe Railway today. In addition to the trains announced in the circular there will be an extra train at 6:40 p.m. from Los Angeles. It will be a delightful moonlight ride for those who cannot make an earlier trip. Desmond's sale and gift hats are from trustworthy factories, and of the best makes, which is a guarantee of wear, as the shapes are of style. They give complete satisfaction to the chaser and suit all ages and kinds of manly beauty.

Miss Katherine Graham, who will read at the next Y.W.C.A. entertainment next Tuesday evening, is a graduate of the Northwestern University School of Oratory. Miss Graham has met with flattering success as a dialect reader.

The King's Daughters meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the parlors of the First Methodist Episcopal Church. All interested in the order are cordially invited. Mrs. Cal Neuer, secretary.

Rev. Burt Estes Howard will preach in the new chapel of the Presbyterian Church, corner of Twentieth and Figueroa streets, Sunday, November 3, at 11 a.m. George H. Stewart, secretary board of trustees.

Edward K. Earle, the wonderful slate-writing medium, at the Los Angeles Theater Sunday evening. Bring your slate and receive messages from your spirit friends.

Fifty cents round trip on Terminal Railway to Long Beach and San Pedro. Good going Saturday and Sunday, returning Monday.

A complete line of Dr. Delmer's linen-mesh underwear now on sale at Desmond's, in the Bryson Block, No. 141 South Spring street.

A fine Oxford Bible will be given free with each prepaid yearly mail subscription to The Daily Times.

Saltbush (Atriplex Australensis), new fringed plant-geod just arrived at Desmond's second story.

Dunlap & Co's silk stuff and soft hats now on sale at Desmond's, No. 141 South Spring street.

New York bargains in sailors and flowers today at Mrs. C. Dorsch's, No. 213 South Spring street.

The sale of seats for the Y.W.C.A. entertainment begins today at Blanchard-Fitzgerald's.

Special sale $2.50 stylish trimmed hats, Bon Ton Millinery, No. 217 North Spring street.

Evangelist Romig will begin revival meetings at the First Christian Church next Sunday.

First Baptist Church, preaching morning and evening; Sunday-school 9:30 o'clock.

School of Art and Design, No. 110 West Second street. Ninth year. Special sale of $2 hats today at Desmond's in the Bryson Block.

Music and Yankee dinner, Hotel Broadway west of 25 cent. For Eastern and California oysters on shell go to Hollenbeck Cafe. Gloves, Saturday, tomorrow. Unique. See Silverwood about underwear. Fur work, Fuller's, Pasadena.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Real Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

PERSONALS.

Ex-Gov. N. O. Murphy of Phoenix, Ariz., is at the Nadeau.

Dr. C. C. Stockton of San Diego is among the Nadeau guests.

Mrs. Franklin and maid of Seattle, Wash., are at the Hollenbeck.

John F. Pagott and wife of Booneville, Mo., are among the Hollenbeck guests.

THE USUAL RESULT.

Emma Wise Badly Burned by a Gasoline Explosion.

Miss Emma Wise was terribly burned by the explosion of a gasoline stove at 307 Court street, near North Broadway, about 1:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She attempted to fill the tank of a gasoline stove while the result.

Under the excitement of the moment she carried the gasoline can, which had become ignited by the explosion, and threw it in a shed at the side of the house. While doing so the flames were communicated to her clothing and she was soon enveloped in fire.

With rare presence of mind she grasped some bed-clothing hanging on a balcony railing, and lying down on the floor of the balcony, rolled over and over and screamed for help. J. F. Henderson, who was passing near the house on Broadway, looked up the hill and saw the young woman's plight. He ran up the long stairway and rubbed the burning places in her clothing until the fire was extinguished. Mr. Henderson's hands were badly burned by his exertions to save the young woman's life.

Her sufferings were terrible and considerable time elapsed before a physician was secured. Dr. W. Thiele came first and afterward Dr. R. Wernick was sent for. The two physicians labored with exciting remedies all afternoon. Her body was badly burned but her face escaped injury. Her hair and eyebrows were slightly singed.

Miss Wise is only 18 years old and was to have been married in about a week to John Lee.

Her injuries are serious and she may not recover.

Licensed to Wed.

Leander G. Dodge, aged 27, a resident of Los Angeles, and Lulu N. Page, aged 17, a resident of Santa Springs, both natives of California.

George Smith, aged 35, a native of Scotland, and Elizabeth B. McDonald, aged 26, a native of Illinois; both residents of Los Angeles.

Edward C. Thornton, aged 28, a native of Rhode Island, and a resident of Pomona, and Emma V. Patton, aged 26, a native of Massachusetts, and a resident of Sheldonsville, Mass.

Robert G. Grimes, aged 21, a native of Missouri, and a resident of South Riverside, and Mattie Frances Henderson, aged 20, a native of Kentucky, and a resident of Los Angeles.

Wrenched His Back.

Col. H. B. Burgh of Corvallis, Or., met with an accident yesterday in getting off the Heights cable car. In attempting to alight he was tripped by the umbrella of a lady passenger, his foot struck the metal plate that lines the outer edge of the floor of the car, causing him to slip and fall heavily to the ground. In trying to recover his equilibrium while falling, he wrenched his back severely and sprained his knee. The colonel is able to walk with the aid of two canes, but it will probably be some time before he recovers completely from his injury.

To Aid San Francisco.

A call for a mass-meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce next Monday evening, simultaneously with the mass-meeting of merchants and citizens of San Francisco, for the purpose of devising ways and means to induce the National Republican Convention to meet in that city, has been issued. It is signed by Mayor Baskin, the president of the Board of Trade, president of the Chamber of Commerce and other notables. The object is to adopt resolutions expressing the good will of Los Angeles toward the metropolis in its efforts to secure the coveted prize.

The Governor Departs.

Gov. Budd and wife, Gen. Barrett and Miss Josephine Todman, executive secretary, returned from Mount Lowe at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and left for Sacramento one hour later.

The Governor has been quite ill since his arrival in Los Angeles to attend the funeral of the late Lieut.-Gov. Millard, but reported himself as considerably improved at the time of his departure. The Governor expects to return to Los Angeles in about a month on official business.

Chamber of Commerce.

The following exhibits were received at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday: sugar beet and crook-neck squash, from J. E. Sherry, Vanuago; prize onions, from B. M. Blythe, Downey; low-dent corn, from M. J. Ely, Santa Ana; yellow-dent corn, from A. I. Steele, Redondo; two varieties of apples and oats in shear, from J. H. Huber, Hesperia.

Schepar Recaptured.

Schepar, who in company with Harry McElroy, was arrested more than two months ago for killing a horse belonging to James McDermott, and for kidnapping and holding for ransom, was recaptured by Sheriff J. E. Gerke at San Bernardino and lodged in the County Jail here yesterday. As Gerke was one of Schepar's bondsmen, he took particular pleasure in going after him. It is alleged there is a lost some on East First street; also who landed some on the ship of Schepar, and he will probably assist in an attempt to retire the agile gentleman where the sun won't tan him.

Richter is Dead.

L. Richter, the bricklayer whose strange condition has attracted some interest of late, died. He was found in an insensible condition from alcoholism at Los Angeles and Commercial streets about two weeks ago. He was kept at the Receiving Hospital for two or three days and afterward taken to County Hospital from which place he escaped. He was found Thursday morning by Officer Spencer in East Los Angeles, and again taken to the Receiving Hospital where he died last night.

LADIES-FUR WORK.

Owing to the many inquiries for fur work, Mr. Fuller, the furrier of Pasadena, will be at the Nadeau again next Wednesday for the purpose of interesting the ladies of Los Angeles in his fur work, all of which is guaranteed.

Mr. Fuller is pleased to announce that he has the only furrier in Southern California.

THE KITE-SHAPED TRACK.

A complete circuit can be made Sunday for $2.00. Trains leave La Grande Station at 7 a.m. and 9 a.m.

From the Sublime To the Useful

Pearline—Easy washing

HALLOWEEN FRANKS.

The Boys Who Threw Water Flood Tea Dollars Each.

Police Judge Morrison had an unusually long list of offenders to deal with yesterday, there being forty-two new cases before him.

Leo and Paul Nolte, H. W. Kircher and Charles Linchenhard, who amused themselves by throwing water at people on Figueroa street Thursday night, were among the first offenders to be disposed of.

Their defense was to the effect that they were driving in a wagon on Figueroa street when some boys threw stones at them. In order to retaliate they obtained some water with the intention of throwing it at the boys. They threw it at Officer Long, not knowing he was a policeman.

They were each fined in the sum of $10.

Andrew Stephen, the man who broke away from Deputy Constable Mugenert after having been arrested by him, and who was later recaptured, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of battery and will be sentenced today.

Death on a Ranch.

The inquest which the coroner was called to attend thirty miles from Palmdale Thursday was over the remains of John P. Nelson, an Illinois banker. The place is a small settlement named Myrtle. Nelson was on a ranch, the owner of which was a man named Ziegler. Nelson and a man named Ziegler were sitting on the veranda of the ranch-house when he was suddenly attacked by a hemorrhage of the lungs. He was about 35 years old. His wife was expecting to come from the East and join him, but was informed of his death, which occurred on Tuesday.

...THE... GREAT SALE Takes Place ..Today..

We Bought for Spot Cash, and at our own price, the Entire Sample Line of

Pocketbooks

From the Garden City Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Over 3000, and nearly 1000 styles to select from. To make them sell quick we have divided them into 3 lots.

Lot 1

Containing about 1000 fine leather Combination Pocketbooks, German silver cases, none worth more than $1.00 and some worth up to 75c; choice in this lot. At 25c

Lot 2

Contains 1200 Seal, Goat, Morocco, Alligator and Embossed Calfskin, etc.; elegant mountings; worth up to $1.50; choice in this lot. At 50c

Lot 3

Contains all the choice and most elegant selections ever offered in this city at the price; up-to-date novelties, all fine and sterling silver, corners, any style you want and worth up to $2.50; choice. At $1.00

Burger's,

213 S. Spring st.

Hollenbeck Hotel Block. Manufacturing Jeweler and Silver-smith. Mail orders promptly filled.

Radiant, Bewitching, New;

No wonder the little girls' eyes snapped. Such hat beauty is scarce at any price; and only $2.50 instead of $4.50 and $5.00; 34 of them sold yesterday. More fresh ones will be ready for your choosing today. Misses' $4.50 and $5 trimmed hats at $2.50

Lud Zobel,

Milliner of Style,

219 S. Spring st.

New Departure.

Don't miss this chance. Columbia Woolen Mills.

Sells Made To order.

Guaranteed all wool. All goods made on premises.

$10 up.

COLUMBIA WOOLEN MILLS,

114 1/2 S. Main Street. Branch San Francisco House, 545 Market street.

Startling Stunner's Saturday's Sale.

Specials From 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.
Specials From 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.—Specials All Day.
Special Values in Ladies' and Children's Handkerchiefs—25c values for 12 1/2c; 10c values for 5c and 5c values for 2 1/2c.
Over 1000 Dozen On Sale.

ALL SPECIALS TODAY. ALL SPECIALS TONIGHT

Shoe Dep't. Infant's Shoes. J. T. Cousin's best French "Kiddies," hand-turned soles; reduced from $1.50 to 85c Prescriptions carefully filled at low prices. Misses' Shoes. Vict "Kiddies," patent leather tips, spring heels, sizes 11 to 12, worth $2.00, for $1.50 Prescriptions carefully filled at low prices. Boy's Shoes. Good quality "California" in either lace or button, sizes 12 to 14; all-round value $2.00 Prescriptions carefully filled at low prices. Boy's Shoes. Tan, chrome "Calf" sizes 12 to 14; reduced from $2.00 to $1.95 Prescriptions carefully filled at low prices. Ladies' Shoes. Cloth top Oxford, Ties, patent leather tips, opera and square toe, hand-turned soles; reduced from $2.50 to $1.50 Prescriptions carefully filled at low prices. Ladies' Shoes. Dongola "Kiddies," button shoes with spring heels, patent leather tips, sizes 12 to 14; reduced from $2.00 to $1.95 Prescriptions carefully filled at low prices. Ladies' Shoes. Cloth top Southern Ties, hand-turned soles, Louis XV leather tips; reduced from $2.50 to $2.00 Prescriptions carefully filled at low prices. Ladies' Shoes. Vict "Kiddies," lace or button, patent leather tips, strong winter soles; reduced from $2.00 to $1.50 Prescriptions carefully filled at low prices. Ladies' Shoes. J. T. Cousin's best cloth or kid top button shoes, Louis XV heels, elegantly stamped; reduced from $3.00 to $2.00	From 7 to 9 p. m. 7-inch Walker Plush Cape; full 100 sweep; Marten or Thibet fur trimmed; Regular $15.00 From 7 to 9 p. m. Boys' Imported Jersey Suits, Blouse, Knee and Sallor; all colors; 3 to 10 years; Reduced from $5 to $2.50 From 7 to 9 p. m. 75 dozen all-silk Windsor Ties, polka-dotted, navy-blue and fine stripes; reduced from $2 to $1.50 From 7 to 9 p. m. Oil-belled Turkey-red Table Damask; extra good quality; sacrificed tonight for $1.50 From 7 to 9 p. m. Eight different designs of patterns of Real Nottingham Lace Curtains From 7 to 9 p. m. A big lot of elegant Marcelline, full 11-4 size; go on sale tonight for $1.50 From 7 to 9 p. m. 50 dozen Ladies' fast and stainless black Hose, high applied heels and toes; tonight for $1.50 From 7 to 9 p. m. Heavy ribbed Children's black Stockings; reduced tonight from $1.00 to 75c From 7 to 9 p. m. 600 yards of Apron and Dress Check Gingham, worth from 7c to 10c; for $5c From 7 to 9 p. m. Danish Downs in excellent patterns for Children's Dresses, fine quality; reduced from 10c to 7 1/2c From 7 to 9 p. m. An event in household economy: SAPHO on sale down stairs tonight 8 cakes to each purchaser From 7 to 9 p. m. Hemmed Pillow Shams, finished with handsome braids and elegantly stamped	From 7 to 9 p. m. In the DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart large size bottles of SOZODONT sold regularly for 50c, for 40c From 7 to 9 p. m. In the DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart Crown Co.'s Lavender Sals sold regularly by us for 50c, for 40c From 7 to 9 p. m. In the DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart Hance's Antiseptic Dentifrice, sold regularly for 50c, for 40c From 7 to 9 p. m. In the DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart 3 oz. bottles of "La Belle Perfume," all odors, worth 75c, for 45c From 7 to 9 p. m. In the DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart extra good, hard rubber Mc Dressing Bubbles for 15c From 7 to 9 p. m. In the DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart sizes of Curling Irons worth up to 50c, for 40c From 7 to 9 p. m. In our DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart Fountain Syringes that others ask 75c for, at 50c From 7 to 9 p. m. In our DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart Fountain Syringes that others ask 75c for, at 50c From 7 to 9 p. m. In our DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart Fountain Syringes that others ask 75c for, at 50c From 7 to 9 p. m. In our DRUG DEPARTMENT we will sell 4-quart Fountain Syringes that others ask 75c for, at 50c	Colored Dress Goods. One Case in today. Covert Cloth, all wool; new shades; ladies' morning dresses; school wear. 50c Boucle-Cheviots. 54 inches wide; the warm, wintry, dark shades; Brown and tan; Cardinal mixtures; worth $1.50. 90c Goods and Price. New today. 44-inch high-class Boucles, Brown and black; tan, navy, and cardinal and black. YARD $1.25 Black Stuffs. 54-inch pure dye; jet black; all-wool storm coats; worth just double. 50c Black Novelties. Small, medium and large patterns in the very latest black designs worth $1.50, for 75c Black Dress Suitings. 50 inches wide; the season's latest in fancy novelty designs; worth $1.50 a yard; low at that. YARD $1.25 $20 to $12.50. Austrian transparent China Dinner Sets, with edge and handles, handsomely decorated, 101 pieces. $12.50 All-wool Plaids. They're all the newest; they're all the best; they're sold elsewhere for 75c; here for 50c Black Silks. Special sale of Black Satin Buses, Pailles, Chenilles, worth $1.50 per yard, for 1.00 YARD Women's Wraps. Cloth Capes, Plush Capes, Fur Capes, all are $15.00; this line goes today for $10.00
--	--	---	--

A. Hamburger & Sons.

OVERCOATS

LIKE YOUR TAILOR MAKES 'EM,

$7.50 to $40.00

London Clothing Co.

HARRIS & FRANK. Props.
119 to 125 N. SPRING STREET.
Agents YOUMAN'S Hats.

THE TAILOR,

Makes the best clothes in the State

At 25 Per Cent Less

THAN ANY OTHER HOUSE.

SUITS

Made to Order from $20

PANTS

Made to Order from $5

FINE TAILORING AT MODERATE PRICES

Rules for self-measurement and sample of cloth sent free for all orders.

NO. 143 S. SPRING STREET
LOS ANGELES.
J. F. HENDERSON, Manager.

Pacific College of Obstetrics

AND Private Maternity Institute

(Incorporated.) This is the only institute of the kind in the west, where ladies who expect their confinement are under the care of regular physicians and trained nurses and find perfect seclusion.

Students of Obstetrics (midwifery). We wish to say that with this institute five regular physicians are connected; also a lying-in; so that students will receive practical and theoretical lessons. Male and female students admitted. DR. H. NEWLAND, Superintendent.

1215 W. 7th St. Office Hours 8 to 10 and 1 to 3

Pa. Dental Co.

Is making a big run on plates. Now is the time to get a good plate for $4

226 South Spring.

The English and German EXPERT SPECIALISTS.

We know there are in this community thousands of sufferers from chronic ailments, who realize the seriousness of their maladies, and yet are putting off treatment to "more convenient seasons." To such this warning is addressed. Do not procrastinate.

The English and German Expert Specialists give you the best treatment known to medical science.

Some of the Specialties We Treat.

Specific Blood Poisoning, Kidney Troubles, Piles, Rheumatism, Skin Diseases of all forms, Catarrh, and Diseases of Womanhood.

Consultation Free.

At office or by mail. Cases not cured or improperly treated by other physicians, especially solicited.

The English and German Expert Specialists.

Byrne Building, Cor. Third and Broadway

Dr. Parker has removed to the Muskegon Block, S.W. corner Third and Broadway.

Dr. C. H. Parker,

Rooms 24 and 25, Muskegon Block, S.W. cor. Third and Broadway.

XIV YEAR

SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 2, 1895.

FIVE CENTS

McDermott
203-207 NORTH SPRING ST.
NEAR TEMPLE.

A Special in...

Ladies' Handkerchiefs

That is Immense. They have hand embroidered initials.

At 5c.

500 dozen Ladies' Irish Lawn Hemstitched Unlaundered Handkerchiefs with hand embroidered initials; regular price $1.20 a dozen. Will be sold today at 5c each.

At 10c.

300 dozen Ladies' Union Linen Hemstitched Unlaundered Handkerchiefs with hand embroidered initials; regular price $1.80 a dozen. Will be sold today at 10c each.

FREE DELIVERY IN PASADENA.

Hour's Sale...

Saturday Night

From 7 to 9

- 15c Linen Towels for.....7c
50c Fringe Napkins, per doz.....25c
1-4 Ream Extra Nice Note Paper worth 25c.....10c
70 Sheet Pencil Tablet, worth 8c.....1c
Gents' Underwear, worth $1.50, per suit.....90c
4 ply Linen Collars for.....11c

We have a New Stock of Laces which we have marked at our usual low prices, but to let the ladies see them, will give 1-4 off.

None of These Goods Sold at These Prices Until 7 p. m.

Broadway Dep't. Store,

401-403 S. Broadway, Cor. 4th.

J. A. WILLIAMS & CO., Proprietors.

You Aint

Right if you don't take advantage of the many bargains being offered at the great

REMOVAL SALE.

- Clark's O.N.T. Crochet Cotton.....3 1/2c
Nursery Pins, a paper.....3c
Pearl Underwear buttons, a dozen.....5c
Silvered Thimbles, each.....1c
6-piece Link Shirt Waist Sets.....15c
Silver Trilby Hats.....22c
Rubber-lined Dress Shields.....8c
Large Hooks and eyes, a dozen.....2c
Wide Metal Buckle Belts.....15c
Silver and Black Belt Pins.....5c
All colors Crochet Silks, a reel.....9c
R & G Corsets, all sizes.....69c
- Clark's O.N.T. Thread.....3 1/2c
Black Satin Silk Embroidered Skirts.....65c
36-inch Flowered Silks.....10c
Imported Saxony Wools.....15c
Imported Germantown Wools.....15c
Gents' Lamb's Wool Underwear.....90c
Hemstitched Stamped Dresser Scarfs.....25c
Child's Overkirt Aprons.....25c
Child's Eiderdown Cloaks.....$1.00

Attend our sale and you will admit that there's money

WINEBURGH'S,
309 S. Spring.

In It.

POLO CHAMPIONS.

A SILVER EMBLEM WON BY THE RIVERSIDE CLUB.

The Polo Tournament Yesterday at Agricultural Park—Southern California Defeated.

Chehalls Won with Ease the Paces for Pacing Horses—Gentlemen's Road Race.

Zombro Put Another Race to His Credit—The Programme Arranged for Today—Entries for the Free-for-all Race Complete.

The main attraction at Agricultural Park yesterday was the polo tournament, the races having but little in them to excite even passing interest. In the two best events on the card, a 2:16 pace for $1200 and a 2:27 trot for $1000, there was entered in each a horse who was conceded the race before the first heat had been finished. This certainty of victory destroyed the attractiveness of the programme, although the time made in several races was good, and the contests for second place were in some of the races even exciting.

POLO PRIZE CUP.

THE POLO TOURNAMENT.

Quite a number of stylish drags, tally-hos, etc. were drawn up by the judges' stand when the time arrived for the commencement of the polo tournament. They were occupied by "society" folks, who claimed friendship for the boys who were later on to yield the mallet and chase the festive polo ball across the rolled and hardened ground. The contest was between the Riverside and Southern California polo clubs for a handsome silver cup, presented by the Breeders' Association. The clubs were made up as follows:

Riverside: H. C. Maud, Blue Gum; R. L. Bettner, Cigarette and Tomlin; G. S. Waring (captain), King Pin and Santa Clara; C. E. Maud, Dawn and Polly.

Santa Monica: P. D. Martin, Lady Jane Gray and Black Maria; W. H. Young, Sheila and Rita; W. R. Ward, Jowrock and Santa Anna; J. R. Proctor (captain), Rex.

Mr. McNair announced that there would be three "lanings" played, of fifteen minutes each, with fifteen minutes intermission between each one. Riverside had everything its own way during the tournament, although the boys in yellow made a game and desperate struggle to head off their opponents. Bettner of the Riverside, on his wonderful little pony, distinguished himself by winning three goals for his club, each time making the stroke that meant victory. Peter Martin redeemed himself for a lack of Wednesday, making some excellent strokes, and, in addition, showing that he rode the fastest pony on the field. Two goals were won by the Riverside men in the first inning, two and a quarter in the next and one in the last. Southern California scored goal once, the winning stroke being made by Ward. At the conclusion of the tournament the cup was presented to the winning club.

SILKWOOD AND HIS VENERABLE DRIVER

ment the cup was presented to the winning club.

SPECIAL TROT, PURSE $100.

The first race of the day, a special trot for two-year-olds, purse of $100, excited but little interest, there being only two entries, and the race occurring early in the day, before even the "bookies" had opened up for business. Gen. Beverly won the first and third heats and the race, Crescenda taking the second heat in the good time of 2:18 1/2. Beverly's heats were trotted in 2:21 1/2 and 2:29 1/2.

TROT, 2:27 CLASS.

In this, the second event on the card, for a purse of $1000, there were five entries, as follows: Knight, Zombro, Neerut, Eva T. Mojave, Zombro, of course, was the favorite, with Eva T. second choice.

First heat—Zombro, as was expected, led the field around the course, though Eva T. gave the great three-year-old a race around the turn. The field was strung out, with Mojave in the rear. Zombro won by two lengths; time 2:37 1/2. Eva T. second. Neerut third; Knight fourth. Mojave fifth.

Second heat—Neerut was a length behind the field when the word was given by the starter and his poor start was no doubt responsible for his position at the finish. Zombro had the pole and at the eighth post was a half length ahead of Knight, the second horse. Knight was a good second until the half was passed, when he went up twice, allowing Eva T. to pass him and take second place. Eva T. made a desperate charge to win in the stretch, but Zombro never wavered, and at the drawgate drew away from the mare, winning by a length; time 2:17 flat.

Eva T. second. Knight third. Knight fourth. Neerut fifth. Knight was third under the wire, but was set back for running.

Third heat—The race was conceded to Zombro before this heat was paced, his easy victories in the preceding heats having shown his superiority to the field. The contest in the race was for second place, with Eva T. the favorite. Zombro led throughout the mile, with Eva T. second and Knight third. The latter horse broke repeatedly during the heat, and was, in consequence, set back one position. Neerut being awarded third money.

KLAMATH.

PACING, 2:16 CLASS.

As in the 2:27 trotting race, so in the 2:16 pace, one horse was conceded the race before the first heat was paced. Chehalls, with a record of 2:07 1/2, was entered with a field of three against him: Ottinger, Fresno Prince and Dan N. Ketchum was barred, having been in the same stable with Dan N. for ten days.

First heat—Dan N. drew the pole, the horses being sent away on the first score. Chehalls was a bit behind at the start, but Fresno Prince, the gallant black to the front in short order. Ottinger and Chehalls were pacing almost even until the half was reached, when Chehalls drew away from his side-wheeler, and around the turn left him three lengths in the rear. Dan N. was third, with Fresno Prince last. Down the stretch Ottinger made a game fight for first place, but the horse from Oregon was too speedy for him. Chehalls won by a half length; time 2:08 1/2. Ottinger second. Time 2:06 1/2. Dan N. third. Fresno Prince fourth.

Second heat—With Chehalls at the pole, it was dollars to doughnuts that he would win the heat. He led at the start, and paced the next quarter at a 2:06 gait. Around the turn he was ten lengths ahead of the field. Ottinger had broken badly at the start and was in the rear until the head of the stretch was reached. Then the game horse settled down to business and in the stretch moved up on Dan N. and Fresno Prince, pacing even with them at the drawgate. Then came the prettiest finish of the day. Three horses, neck and neck, one hundred yards from the wire, and the driver of each playing his whip like a demon. It looked like a dead heat for second place at the finish, but the judges gave Ottinger the place. Chehalls won, time 2:10 1/2. Ottinger second. Dan N. third.

Third heat—Ottinger broke again, at the start, but recovered himself quicker than before, and at the half was almost even with Dan N., who was pacing five lengths behind the "sure thing" winner. Chehalls, around the turn, increased his lead, while Ottinger passed Dan N. and down the stretch the horses came in one, two, three order, Chehalls winning by three lengths. Ottinger second. Fresno Prince third. Dan N. distanced.

GENTLEMEN'S ROAD RACE.

The last race on the card, a gentlemen's road race, non-professional riders, for a purse of $250, had five entries, as follows: Texas, Jumbo, Sam H. George, R. D. Dandy, and George R. was the favorite, selling at $25. The betting changed somewhat in the 2:40 trotting race, Lady Grace sold the favorite for $25, the field bringing $15.

A Beneficial Parasite.

In confirmation of what was mentioned in The Times last week regarding the work that is being done by the rhizobium, the following letter from Alfred Wright of Pomona, who has an orchard in San Bernardino county, to a San Francisco gentleman, is printed:

"Your favor of October 8 at hand, making inquiries in regard to rhizobium ventralis. About two weeks ago, in the afternoon, when the warm spell was on, Mr. Pease, the inspector, came to pass the time, as he is very anxious as well as myself, that they will be a success, we went all over the orchard and could find them everywhere in all stages, and some trees I am certain we could have taken at least a thousand off the trunk of the tree, and we could see the larvae crawling up and down the trees as well as find the pupae as well. My orchard never made a better growth than this year and will have quite a good crop of olives. I am satisfied that the want of a better knowledge of the rhizobium is the cause of bad success. When you come down here and call on me, as I have many questions to ask."

Extra Care for Improved Stock.

(American Cultivator.) It should always be understood by those who purchase improved stock of any kind that it will require a continuation of the extra care and feed which has brought it to its present condition. Blood tells, but it is only when given good feed and care that it will fulfill expectations. Even the half-bred stock will not shift for themselves as the hardy native stock has learned to do. There should always be sufficient food to keep the animal thrifty. It need not be, and with stock designed for breeding, should not be fattened. But a thrifty-growing animal will always be in condition for killing if an accident such as breaking a leg, makes killing a necessity.

(Oakland Enquirer.) Gov. McKinley of Ohio started off upon a railroad trip and before he had gone more than a few miles, his car got off the track. We hope this is not an omen. Gov. McKinley is preparing for a great Presidential race, and it would be a sad disappointment to thousands of supporters if his political car should be found to be off the track almost as soon as it was run out of the yards.

THE GREAT DANES.

FRED VANNIER ON TRIAL FOR SHOOTING ONE.

A Boy Puts a Charge of Buckshot into a Thousand-dollar Dog.

Interest Taken in the Matter by the Kennel Club—It Assists the Prosecution.

The Hound "Titan" in the Courtroom—Unwilling Witness Makes an Exhibition of His Reluctance to Answer Questions.

All sorts and conditions of exhibits are brought into Justice Young's court, and for all varieties of purposes. Some are commonplace, some are gruesome, but it is safe to wager that none ever excited livelier or more sustained interest than the bit of living evidence which pervaded every corner of the courtroom yesterday, and made him self the hero of the hour. The four-footed witness and exhibit rolled into one, was Titan, the sole survivor of the magnificent quartette of Great Dane hounds brought from Europe by J. G. Borglum, and his presence in court was because of the untimely demise of his brother, Ribaud, who was shot at to pieces by young Fred Vannier, yesterday on trial for the offense.

Mr. Borglum is an artist, whose home is in Sierra Madre, and in 1885, he imported from France the four beautiful hounds which were the pride of the Kennel Club, paying $125 to a French dog-fancier for each of the promising puppy. There were two males and two females, and their progeny sold like the proverbial hot cakes. Each good-natured, gleaming infant fetching $100 as soon as he was able to stagger, and the grown dogs each being valued at $1000 or more.

On July 15, the great hound Ribaud was discovered to have been filled with buckshot by some unknown evil-doer, and since then Mr. Borglum, denly introduced into a room full of people. The calf, though, might have created more disturbance, for even the mildest and best-mannered little beast is full of bovine awkwardness, while the big dog sauntered in with an air of dignity and composure which did credit to his mile or so of pedigree.

In obedience to a hint from Mr. Borglum, Titan climbed upon the witness stand, and stood amiably surveying the jury with an air of comradeship and approval, while his master pointed out just where the shots had lodged in the anatomy of his hapless brother. This done, Titan was requested to stand aside, and his duty as a witness being done for the present, he entered into a conscientious display of his qualities as an exhibit of untamable ferocity, and did his best to bolster up the theory of the defense that Borglum's dogs were a terror to the neighborhood and ought not to be allowed to run at large, by running very much at large among the spectators, who did not seem paralyzed with fear.

THE UNWILLING WITNESS.

During the rest of Mr. Borglum's testimony, Titan, like a dog of judgment and discrimination, examined the jury with critical nose and inquiring but friendly tail, and then continued his investigation among the delighted spec-actively aided by the Kennel Club, has left no stone unturned to discover and punish the slayer of Ribaud. Large rewards were offered, and after the poisoning of one of the females a little later, the case was taken before the jury, where investigations are still in process for the discovery of the poisoner, who will be treated to a dose of the penitentiary if convicted.

DR. ROWLAND EXPLAINS BY MEANS OF TITAN WHERE THE DOG WAS SHOT.

Suspicion pointed to Fred Vannier.

The fifteen-year-old son of a neighbor who was not on the best of terms with Mr. Borglum, as the person who shot Ribaud, and sufficient evidence was gathered to warrant his arrest and trial, he was telegraphed for, but the case has excited such general interest among the owners of finely-bred dogs that the courtroom was filled all day yesterday with spectators, the Kennel Club being well represented, and the prosecution aided by C. A. Sumner, president of the club, and A. P. Robinson, one of the vice-presidents.

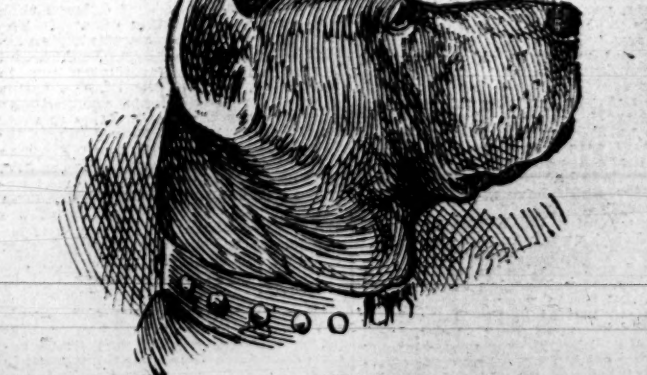

Mr. Borglum was the first witness called, and testified to the breed and value of the dog, stating that his descendants had netted the owner just $1020, in addition to the pups given to friends. At the time of the shooting, Mr. Borglum was away on a sketching tour; he was telegraphed for, but the dog was under ground before he returned. The body was exhumed a few days ago, and, having been properly wrapped, was still in good condition enough to show where the shot had lodged, a full charge in the left shoulder, the direction showing that the charge had been fired at a three-quarter angle. One or two shots had tators, passing by the young defendant with a single patronizing sniff at his legs, and edging in and out among the rows of chairs, replying pats and strokes with friendly little shoves from his huge muzzle, and the occasional offer of a massive paw. After he had made friends all around, he took a large and audible drink of water from a tin bucket in the corner, stalked leisurely over to the window and looked critically at the view, of which the expressive tail appeared to approve, and finally selected a soft spot on the linoleum, dropped himself down with a ponderous thud and an expansive sigh of satisfaction, and indulged in a refreshing slumber.

Titan's nap was well-timed, for the testimony of the next witness was enough to make any sensible dog tired.

Edwin Hart, the son of a professor of music at Sierra Madre, was called to the stand, and proceeded to display in a masterly manner just how much he did not know. Young Hart had been a witness before the grand jury, and his unwillingness to testify was so apparent that the District Attorney in person came in to conduct the examination. He had a hard time of it, for, with the exception of a very few lucid intervals, the mind of the witness was a blank. His utter failure to remember each and every event connected with the shooting suggested a liberal indulgence in the waters of Lethe, and very few young men have skated so closely to the boundaries of contempt of court without having to pay a good fat fine for their temerity.

Mr. Donnell hammered away at him, glanced over the nose and above the eye, the direction showing that the attention of the dog had not even been attracted toward the person firing. The body of the shot had lodged in the left shoulder-blade.

TITAN.

In order to illustrate the manner in which the shot had lodged, Mr. Borglum was requested to bring in the dog Titan, half-brother of the dead Ribaud. Titan had been ordered as an exhibit by the defense, in order to show the extraordinary size and ferocity of these descendants of the famous Danish hounds.

Titan was brought in, and the evidence of his size was certainly beyond a doubt. A yearling calf could hardly have looked bigger if he had been sudand extracted reluctant admissions, one at a time, like pulling teeth, while the jury laughed at the clumsy shuff and comically palpable evasions of the witness, who damaged the case of the defense at every fresh burden which he made in the hope of shading Vannier.

Bit by bit, the information was dragged out of Hart that he had been at Vannier's just before the shooting, and that it was "just possible" he might have heard Fred say that if the dog attacked him again he would like to shoot him; also that he had warned Fred not to kill the dog, that he had heard the shot and the cry of pain, and that he had passed Mr. Borglum's that night on the way home from a call on some friends at Lamanda Park, and had seen a light burning at the kennel house. In the afternoon, when the young man was recalled, his memory had been somewhat refreshed by a conversation with his father, but his mind remained as it was blank until he was produced into more half-admissions by the skillful and relentless questioning of the District Attorney, who was quite satisfied with the exhibition Hart was making of himself, and showed no disposition to shorten the agony. It was finally discovered that Hart had called at Mr. Borgium's the next morning to inquire after the health of the dog and had expressed much sorrow over his untimely death.

John Baker, the general factotum of Mr. Borgium, and the man who had charge of the dogs, was then called, and testified to having gone to supper at 6:30, after having worked at the kennel all the afternoon. When he returned he searched for the dog, which had been at liberty in the afternoon, and was lying in the driveway when Baker left the yard. He asked a neighbor named Dixon if he had seen Ribaud, and Dixon told him he had heard a shot, a howl of pain, and then a disturbance among the grapes. Baker returned, and after further search, found that the dog had dragged himself out from among the grapevines, and was lying near the studio, his left side tilted with shot. Baker worked over the suffering creature all night. At about 11:30 Hart rode by, walking his horse past the Borgium place, and in the morning Hart came and asked him about the dog, saying that the shooting was an outrage.

Dr. Rowland, the veterinary surgeon who was called from Pasadena to testify to the location of the wounds, illustrating on Titan, who was called from Pasadena for the purpose. The doctor said that Ribaud had lived for a week, and died at last from septic poisoning from the shot. Titan claimed the surgeon as an old acquaintance, and manifested a wild desire to share the witness-stand with him, which was discouraged with some difficulty.

Kent Wible was the first witness called for the defense, and although he manifested a large alacrity in swearing that all the dogs had a bad reputation for honesty and integrity, peace and quiet, he could not be nailed down to the assertion of any specific deed of iniquity on the part of any of them, and gave place to L. E. Steinberger, who swore that the deceased Ribaud, described as a "large, black, long-looking yellow dog," had once made for him with his mouth open, teeth showing, and the "hair turned up on his back." The dog barked violently, and the witness was convinced that he meant business, but Ribaud appeared to reconsider the matter, for he came to a full stop in his advance, looked Steinberger carefully over, and then trotted back to Mrs. Borgium, who was sitting in the carriage near by, and who placidly assured the witness that the dog did not bite.

E. H. Garrell testified to an attack upon himself, the dog, and the dog's ferocious, and then Mrs. Mary Ann Webster was called, and gave much voluntary testimony concerning the crime upon which she had sent her grandson, Fred Vannier, upon the afternoon of Ribaud's taking-off.

The ferocity of the dog and extreme peril of the citizen of Sierra Madre having been thus satisfactorily established, the defendant was put upon the stand.

Fred Vannier at once confessed, in a frightened whisper, that he shot the dog. His grandmother had sent him for some little orange trees, and he was passing the Borgium place with his wheelbarrow and shovel, when the puppies gave tongue, and the old dogs came out to meet him. The disturbance was about. They chased the boy, who ran home, according to his own account, got his shotgun, and went back to settle the matter with Ribaud. He said the dog attacked him when he returned, and that he fired to save his life, but the jury, after a short deliberation, found the dog standing peacefully inside his own domain when he was killed.

Mr. Vannier, the boy's father, was called, and W. M. Dixon, both for the purpose of proving the ferocity of the dog, but that ferocity seeming to lie only in vague, unprovable, and unadmitted without further discussion of the merits of the case, which will be resumed this morning.

An Incident in a Future Campaign.

"To what am I indebted for the honor of this call?"

It was Mrs. Mary Ellen Ricketts who spoke. She held in her hand the card of Mrs. Samantha Jenkinson, which had just been laid on her desk by the office-girl, for the card was followed almost instantly by the entrance of the person whose name it bore.

There was no necessity for the use of the card, either, for the two had frequently met.

Mrs. Ricketts was the candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket, while Mrs. Jenkinson was the Democratic nominee. Under the circumstances it was natural for her to be surprised at receiving a call from her opponent.

"I came to see you on a small matter of business," replied the visitor.

"Pray proceed."

"I have learned, from good authority, that your managers are bent upon a campaign of personalities, and that they intend to give to the press certain scandalous gossip about me, intended to injure my candidacy."

The speaker paused, and Mrs. Ricketts said, interrogatively:

"Well?"

"Well," echoed Mrs. Jenkinson, "we must keep personalities out of the campaign."

"We must, must we?"

"We must," Mrs. Jenkinson sneered.

"Look here, Mary Ellen Ricketts," she exclaimed, "don't you dare to turn up your snub-nose at me now."

"Samantha Jenkinson," retorted Mrs. Ricketts, "my nose it not a snub, and don't you dare to presume to dictate what my managers shall or shall not do in this campaign."

"We'll see about that. Mary Ellen Ricketts, you were engaged to my husband in your young days, a good many years ago."

NEWS OF CYCLING.

MEETING OF GOVERNORS OF THE ASSOCIATED CLUBS.

Eastern Racing Men Enjoying Themselves at San Jose and San Francisco—Redlands and Riverside Tournaments—Notes.

The Associated Cycling Clubs' board of governors met on the last Saturday evening of the month. Last month the meeting was held in the new clubhouse of the Roamers' Road Club on Olive street, this city.

Tonight being the first Saturday evening in November, the board of governors will assemble at Pomona, where they will be the guests of the Pomona Bicycle Club.

The board is made up of three delegates from each club in the federation. Nearly every club in Southern California belongs to the association.

President H. A. Luther of Redlands has sent the following notice to the secretaries of the various clubs:

"Each club is requested to recommend at least three members whom they desire to serve on committees."

The $5 annual membership fee is due.

There are numerous points in regard to the national circuit, which should be arranged by the Associated Clubs.

The Eastern racing men have been at San Jose most of the time since they arrived on the Coast. Tonight the Bay City Wheelmen of San Francisco tender them a reception at their clubhouse, and tomorrow the party will visit Golden Gate Park in company with hundreds of wheelmen.

All counted, there were fifteen in the Eastern party, including four trainers, "On-the-Spot" Spooner, and his wife and son. The only racing men were Bald, Cooper, Murphy and Kissel.

The record-breakers at Louisville, New Orleans and other Eastern points will probably come direct to Los Angeles later on, and go into training for records on whichever track is considered the fastest.

Redlands announces its racing program for its tournament on November 6, as follows: Mile novice, mile handicap, mile and half-mile scratch, class A; mile open, half-mile scratch, five-mile handicap, and mile, unpaired, against time, class B. The prize list amounts to $715, and most of the prizes will be diamonds.

This is the first bicycle meet ever held in Redlands, and the new track will be opened at this time by the Redlands Cycling Club. Entries close November 28, with H. A. Luther, P. O. box 461, Redlands.

Riverside's meet is to be held two days earlier than Redlands, and the entries close the same date.

The Riverside races are as follows: Mile novice, mile class A, three-mile class A, handicap; one-mile open, class B; two-mile handicap, class B; two-mile lap, class B, and mile handicap, class B.

The East Side Cycling Club has invited the Roamers' Road Club to join it on the club run to Whittier tomorrow. The start will be from the East Side clubhouse, No. 142 North Chestnut street, at 8:30 a.m. Dinner will be had at Whittier and late in the afternoon all will wheel back.

Next Wednesday evening the smoking concert will be held by the East Sides at their clubhouse. A large number of invitations have been sent out.

Secretary Burham of the Pasadena Club received the L.A.W. sanction from the national racing board for the annual New Year's meet at Pasadena on Thursday morning, and the Crown City Cycling Club has therefore won this time and will now begin preparing for the annual meet in earnest.

The races and prizes for the Pasadena meet, on the new track there, January 1, are as follows:

Mile novice, gold and silver medals and pair of tires; one-fourth mile, class A, prizes of value of $70; mile open, class A, $30; mile tandem, class A, $30; third of mile, class B, $175; mile open, class B, $235; mile handicap, class B, $175.

Every world record broken will be rewarded with a $100 diamond, and a $25 diamond will be given for every new Coast record.

Nine members of the Citrus Wheelmen rode on the Crown City Cycling Club at Pasadena, Thursday evening, and were right royally entertained by the Pasadena boys in their new brick clubhouse.

On Friday evening, November 22, the evening of the second day of the National Circuit race here, there will be a grand bicycle carnival at Hearst's Pavilion in honor of the Eastern racing men. The grand march will be on bicycles and then there will be a general masquerade. E. G. Spier will be in charge of the awarding of prizes, which will amount to more than $300.

A big box will be reserved for the Eastern racing men, and the pavilion will be decorated with the colors of the bicycle clubs of Southern California.

The Banana Trade.

(American Cultivator.) During the first six months of the current year more than 10,000,000 bunches of bananas have been sold in the United States, and since about sixty vessels are engaged in carrying this fruit to our markets, and from fifty to a hundred are employed in unloading each cargo as it arrives, the banana business now probably takes rank as the leading branch in the fruit trade.

The great increase in the consumption of bananas is due to the fact that the country fruit stores can dispose of them more readily than other kinds of fruit on account of their cheapness, and many country merchants have built ripening-rooms for the fruit when according to the Fruit Trade Journal, the arrangements for receiving and discharging cargoes are more systematic in New Orleans than any other port of this country.

The vessels there unload immediately on arrival at any time of day or night, and the railroads give special attention to shipments, so that the banana trains often leave New Orleans and make as good time as passenger trains to their destination. In 1891 New Orleans for the first time received more bananas than New York, but already in the first half of the year her importations exceeded those of New York by more than 600,000 bunches. Mobile ranks as the third port in the number of bunches received, while Philadelphia and Boston compete closely for the fourth place.

Western Yields of Beans.

(American Cultivator.) A correspondent of the Michigan Farmer writes that many bean-growers in that State secure only from four to ten bushels per acre. He rightly adds that such farmers might better grow wheat at 50 cents a bushel. Both beans and wheat are light crops, and the land that has this light yield of beans would probably be equally poor for wheat. But beans can be grown after wheat has failed, provided the soil is rich in mineral plant food. The bean plant is leguminous and secures its nitrogen from the atmosphere, as do peas and clover. The idea that beans do best on poor land is due to the fact that many soils rich in mineral plant food have very little vegetable matter. Such soils are called "poor," while the mucky soils that seem rich because they are black when turned up by the plow are often deficient in mineral fertility. Such soil will make a great growth of bean straw, but it will fail to seed, which is mainly what beans are grown for.

NEVER SUCH TESTIMONIALS.

What the Mail Brings to the Paine's Celery Compound People.

What excuse is there for not getting strong and well? Paine's celery compound, the world's great remedy for nervous weakness, can be obtained at any druggist's in any city or in any country town. One can get a healthier, happier appetite, purify the blood and increase its power of feeding the nerves and tissues by taking Paine's celery compound.

It is the greatest invigorator in existence. Convince yourself of the fact. Try it. Testimonials for publication are taken quite at random by the present proprietors of this great remedy.

The letters are never "doctored." Titles are never placed before the names of untitled people. Honest, but obscure, men are never said to be "honorable." Every-day kind of men who have made well by Paine's celery compound are never paraded before the public as "The Great Mr. So-and-So," or "The Wonderfully Successful Mr. This-and-That." Cases of ordinary sickness are never elaborated into hideous, impossible diseases.

When it happens that the mail brings a heartfelt letter from such a man as State Treasurer Colvin of New York, or Mr. Carlin's private secretary, or Edmund Russell, or Mayor McShane of Montreal, or Rev. Father Ouellet, or Commodore Howell, or Mr. Gilliam of Judge, or Ida Lewis, or ex-Minister to Austria John M. Francis, or any other widely-known man or woman who expressly wishes others to be benefited by his or her experience, the proprietors of Paine's celery compound gladly give such unsolicited testimonials to the public press.

But one person's health is as valuable as another's, and in publishing the testimonials of people whom this great remedy has made well and strong, no particular emphasis is put upon person's official standing.

The world is made up of what Abraham Lincoln called "the plain people." It is they whom Paine's celery compound has most benefited. Here is a letter (verbatim) just received from Louisa Pierce of Melrose, S. D.:

"I used Paine's celery compound first for rheumatism, and found that it helped me very much. I have since used it for nervousness and kidney trouble, and have received very much benefit from its use, and consider it one of the best of remedies. Mr. A. Cady's people use it and think they can hardly get along without it in the house. I know of several others that have used it that I am not acquainted with, but one other lady, Mrs. O'Neill, used it for nervousness, and it made her well."

There is the testimony of thousands. Paine's celery compound makes people well!

Rambler..

RIDING SCHOOL...

Bicycle - Riding - Taught While You Wait.

427 S. Spring St.

The Whistle.

Wins the Race!!

Whether on Track or Road.

NO BETTER

WHEEL

MADE BY

EMIL ULBRICHT, Thistle Agent

438 South Spring St., Los Angeles.

NEW FOWLERS FOR RENT.

Fowler Out-Door Riding School

Mr. Edward Thompson positively guarantees to teach anyone to ride in one hour. Ladies' dressing room; bloomers for use of pupils (laid on premises). Lessons including wheel race.

Phone 1654, 431 S. Spring St. Branch rental on Pearl street, next to Pico Stables.

Bellis Bicycles

Repairing, Sundries, Private Riding School, Trimble & Hollis Co., 449 S. Spring St., L. A.

SPECIAL SALE.

One lot Ladies' $1.00 Wool Vests For 75c

Ladies' $1.00 Black Skirts For 75c

Ladies' $1.50 Black Skirts For $1.00

One lot $1.00 and $1.25 Kid Gloves For 50c

One lot of Boys' Wool Vests For 25c

One lot $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 Kid Suits in Corsets For 50c

A big cut in all departments.

See prices.

Hunter's,

329 S. Spring St.,

Bet. Third and Fourth.

The... Elite...

Millinery...

—Can please in

—styles and

—prices, You will —do well to

—call before buy-

—ing elsewhere.

257 S. Broadway.

Now Then

WILL YOU DOUBT US WHEN WE SAY THAT WE ARE GOING TO CONSOLIDATE NOS. 123 NORTH MAIN STREET AND 128 AND 130 NORTH SPRING STREET.

THESE PRICES ON "LEATHER PURITIES" WILL FOREVER SILENCE A CROAKER, CONVINCE A DOUBTER, AND SATISFY A SEEKER AFTER A SHOE BARGAIN.

TODAY, NOVEMBER 2, WILL BE A SHOE DAY—A DAY OF SUCCESSFUL SHOE-SELLING—A LEATHER LANDSLIDE—A DAY OF CUTTING SHOE VALUES.

YOU WILL BE THERE; YOUR FRIENDS WILL MEET YOU. SHOES WILL BE KING FOR A DAY AND A TOTAL "SUBJECT IN ECONOMIC BUYING" UNTIL CONSOLIDATION HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED.

FOR Today.

WE OFFER FOR YOUR "JUDGMENT OF QUALITY," YOUR "COMFORT IN FIT" AND YOUR "APPRECIATION OF LOW PRICE" THE FOLLOWING:

SUGAR STAPLE SHOE VALUES.

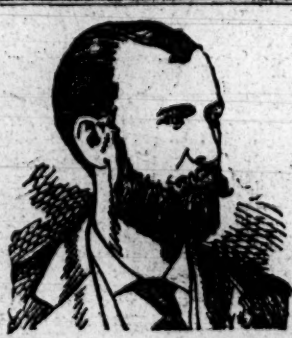

Consolidation

Must take place. Our Stores must come under one roof. We have in store for this community. Today we have a store full of surprises. We look for you tomorrow IMMEDIATE DELIVERY.

A Surprise

AT JACOBY BROS.

DR. TALCOTT & CO.

The Only Doctors in Southern California Treating Every Form of Weakness

DISEASES OF MEN EXCLUSIVELY.

To show our honesty, sincerity and ability, WE ARE WILLING TO WAIT FOR OUR FEE UNTIL CURE IS EFFECTED. We will send free, securely sealed, a little book explaining our methods. We have the largest practice on the Pacific Coast, treating Weakness and Diseases of Men and Women. Corner Main and Third Sts., over Wells-Fargo & Co. Private side entrance on Third Street.

NEW BOOKS.
"Electricity for Everybody," by Philip Atkinson, $1.50
"New Tide Tables for 1904," 50c
Stoll & Thayer Co., Book Store, 120 S. Spring St.

The W. H. PERRY
Lumber Mfg. Co.
LUMBER YARD AND PLANING MILL, Commercial street.

NADAEU
FURNITURE
311-313 S. Main St.
HALF PRICE

PIONEER TRUCK COMPANY
No. 2 Market street. Pianos, Furniture, and Bath Moving; baggage and freight delivered promptly to address. Telephone 121.

5 Headaches Cured
By the Comp. Celery Powder.
THOMAS & ELLINGTON
Agents, Cor. Temple and Spring Sts.

Poland Rock
Batholomew & Co.
111 W. 4th Street
Telephone, 112

LOCAL NEWS

ORANGE COUNTY.

A BOY SHOT AT GARDEN GROVE WHILE PLAYING FRANKS.

A Small Fire at Santa Ana—Meeting of the S. A. V. I. Company's Directors at Orange—Brief News Notes and Personal.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) There came near being a fatal accident at Garden Grove about 11 o'clock Thursday night. It was Halloween and the boys of the neighborhood had assembled together for an evening's mischief. They decided to make a "round-up" of buggies and wagons of the neighboring farmers and to bring them all into the little country town to leave at the blacksmith shop. They scattered for that purpose and a little later Oscar Ingram, the seventeen-year-old son of G. D. Ingram, accompanied by another boy or two, approached the home of Ira Woodman. They went to the barn, and after taking the whip out of the carriage, took off the necktie and started to pull the carriage out of the shed. Several tin cans tied on the edge of the carriage took the boys into the next moment Mr. Woodman hove in sight out of the hay mow, armed with a double-barreled shotgun loaded with "double B" shot. The boys dropped the carriage and took to their heels as fast as they could go, but Woodman took a shot at them, sending two of the shot into young Ingram's arm and two into one of his legs and ten into his back, making fourteen in all.

It was thought at first that the young man would die, but physicians attending today say that there is good hope for his recovery. The ten big shot that went into his back had not been extracted at this time, the article of being written and it is feared they cannot be found.

Mr. Woodman was arrested today on the charge of shooting with a deadly weapon and was taken before a justice of the Peace Lane. During the afternoon the boy seemed so much better that Mr. Woodman was released on his own recognizance, to appear Thursday of this week for examination.

A SMALL BLAZE.

The Santa Ana Fire Company, likewise the town of Santa Ana, at 2:30 p.m. today (Friday), the cause of the alarm being the burning of a small barn well filled with hay on West Fifth street. Mr. Zimmerman, the owner, in a very few minutes after the alarm was sounded the department was on hand and several streams, together with a number of Southern Pacific firemen, were playing on the blaze. The fire was soon under control and subsequently extinguished without much damage being done. The barn was insured by the Santa Ana fire company and therefore not of much value. About $50 worth of hay was ruined. The barn was the property of the Santa Ana fire company and was fully insured. The house on the same lot, occupied by H. L. Zimmerman and family, was not damaged. The fire was caused by a small section of the fire company. The origin of the blaze is not definitely known, but is supposed to be from the carelessness of a tramp. Mr. Zimmerman's loss is not heavy. He loses the hay, but his horse and wagon were taken out in the nick of time by Mrs. Zimmerman.

S. A. V. I. COMPANY.

The directors of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company met in their office at Orange last Saturday in regular monthly meeting. The reports of the secretary and superintendent were adopted, after which the Finance Committee approved bills as follows: Wages, $145.85; interest, $112.44; construction, $186.65; interest, $112.44.

F. S. Buchheim petitioned for a rehearing of his case, in which he is charged with the murder of a man of turn, and the same was granted.

J. R. Haddock filed a bill for damages caused by overflow of company's ditch at Orange last Saturday in regular monthly meeting. The reports of the secretary and superintendent were adopted, after which the Finance Committee approved bills as follows: Wages, $145.85; interest, $112.44; construction, $186.65; interest, $112.44.

On motion bill was allowed and secretary instructed to draw warrant in favor of Mr. Haddock for $15, and make claim against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for same amount.

Report of the committee appointed to secure the adoption of bylaws 23 and 24 was read as follows and unanimously adopted.

To the Board of Directors of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company Gentlemen: The committee appointed to prepare additional bylaws making section 324 C. C. as amended, applicable to our company, and to secure the adoption of the same, has the honor to report to the stockholders, presents the following report:

Two new bylaws, numbered 23 and 24, respectively, were prepared by Attorney Keech, and copies printed. These were placed in a number of the stockholders' hands, and the employees of the company to secure signatures. As each individual had his own duties to attend to, very few names were obtained. It was found after a number of weeks waiting, H. M. Seymour was employed to canvass the stockholders, at a compensation of $250 per day for time and travel, and he was actually engaged in the service of the company. His work was so intermittent that the committee was unable to obtain the necessary number of signatures. However, your committee is now able to report that the written consent has been obtained of the stockholders of 10,076.05 shares of the capital stock of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company to the said bylaws 23 and 24, which is more than the necessary two-thirds of the 14,444.84 shares on the books of the company. All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. ARMOR, Committee.

The irrepressible "kid" turned himself loose in Santa Ana Thursday night in order to celebrate Halloween in a manner most becoming to his own mind. The States were seriously hurt, and in some portions of the city about every movable object was carried to some out-of-the-way place to be found in the morning as best it could. At the Central School building a spring-wagon was found on the top of one of the out-houses, and a cart, together with a wheelbarrow, were found strung up in front of the entrance, by wire, while the card of a well-known real estate dealer in the town, fastened above all announced that the premises were "for rent." Carpenters' trestles were dangling from electric-light masts, and lumber was scattered promiscuously among many of the residences. Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Jones, who was in one of the parties, was seriously hurt, having been struck on the head and neck by a heavy piece of timber at one place where the crowd was engaged in mischief.

ORANGE COUNTY BREVITIES.

Judge Towner of the Superior Court of this county today issued an order dis-

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

AN INTER-HIGH-SCHOOL FIELD DAY TO BE HELD.

How Halloween Was Observed at Idelwild—Gail-hunting Cases Dismissed—E. W. Medical Testimony in the Station Cases—News and Personal Items.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) Athletic sports and contests are not confined to colleges, but the high schools in this part of the State are taking a lively interest in them. Plans are on foot for an inter-high-school field day to be held about New Year's, and it is expected that teams from the San Bernardino, Redlands and Riverside high schools will participate in the various events. It will probably come off at Riverside, as the grounds there are better.

As yet the plan has just been suggested and nothing definite has been announced, but the proposition came to the Athletic Association of the High School in this city, and they at once accepted and began playing for the contest.

The representation will be limited to two men in each event, and these representatives will be determined by the results of a preliminary field day to be held about two weeks before the meeting with the representatives of the other schools. At a meeting of students last night a committee consisting of Sherman Keir, John Myers and W. H. Golding was appointed and they will represent the High School in the preliminary field day to be held at the other schools at once, accepting the offer, and the prospective contestants will go into training to prepare themselves to carry off some of the laurels at the field-day meeting.

HALLOWEEN CELEBRATED.

Halloween was royally celebrated at the Idelwild residence of Dr. J. H. Piereson last night by nearly two hundred guests. They came from all parts of the valley, from the city of Los Angeles and Los Angeles, and the hospitable mansion rang with shouts of laughter from the merry throng until close to the midnight hour.

The guests were greeted by all sorts of queer sights upon approaching the house. Even before the entrance to the grounds was reached the guests were greeted by the sound of a band playing along the avenue, while ghostly figures piled fatigues on the floor.

At the gate a transparency—"Salve"—was hung across the entrance, and "Hallowe'en" hung from the trees in the driveway.

The yards and porches of the big house were crowded with white-robed men, while grinning skeletons and gags and all sorts of queer creations gazed from windows and niches here and there, pumping out a stream of light from the hands of the artists. Within the house at first was a garden, and the same ghostly figures were seen in the hallways and stairways were thronged with people.

Then the lights were turned on, and revealed the guests who were seated at the tables. The mansion, festooned with the chandeliers, roses barked the mantels, and the air was redolent with blossoms.

During the evening, an impromptu musical concert was given by the Bessie Hooper of this city furnishing a violin solo, Ted Collins of Ontario several piano numbers, and vocal solos were given by the Bessie Hooper and the Bessie Hooper.

There is to be an open entertainment by members of the Fremont Lyceum at the assembly hall of the High School this evening; the subject of debate among the boys will be the water-bomb measure.

Many prune orchards have full blooms on trees, and there is much conjecture as to whether the weather will be favorable for the proper time for the next crop.

The funeral of Sarah M., the late wife of John M., was held at the Methodist church, South in this city at 2:30 p.m., Sunday.

Already arrangements are beginning for the funeral of the late Mrs. J. M. Johnson, who died at the Hotel Palomar, in this city at 2:30 p.m., Sunday.

It is said that a delegation of the business men of the city will appear before the Board of Trade at its meeting on Monday evening next in this city. As it is one of the many petitions for the purpose of effecting an organization. W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

W. J. Lamerick was elected president, E. W. Reed, vice-president, and E. L. Haslett, secretary.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

A BANQUET TO THE FATHER OF RIVERSIDE.

Death of Dist. Atty. Anderson—A Los Angeles Man Arrested for Stealing a House—Riverside Youth in Limbo at Colton.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) S. C. Evans, Sr., one of the oldest and most prominent residents of this city and one who has done much toward the upbuilding of Riverside, died at his residence here, at 10 o'clock today. He was 80 years of age. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow at the Riverside Methodist church. Mr. Evans was born in New York, and came to Riverside in 1850. He was a member of the Riverside Methodist church, and was a prominent citizen. He was a successful business man, and was one of the founders of the Riverside Water Works. He was also a member of the Riverside Board of Education, and was a member of the Riverside Chamber of Commerce. He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time. He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and was one of the most successful business men of his time.

He was a man

C. F. Heinzen
DRUGGIST AND CHEMIST
NORTH MAIN ST. Lanfr
Telephone 60. Los A